

June 01, 2005

Washington, DC. – EastBanc Technologies, LLC today announced the award of a contract to provide a Plumtree® Development Team to the DC Office of the Chief Technology Officer (OCTO).

Under the contract EastBanc Technologies will supply Plumtree® expertise to the District on a time and materials basis to support the development of the next generation portal for the District government.

For further information about EastBanc Technologies, please visit the EastBanc Technologies web site at www.eastbanctech.com or contact the EastBanc Technologies sales department at (202)295-3000.

About EastBanc Technologies, LLC

Eastbanc Technologies, LLC is a software development and services company based in the District of Columbia with expertise in .NET, Java/J2EE, EAI and portal development. EastBanc Technologies is certified woman owned small business that focuses on providing these services for public sector organizations and select private sector industries. EastBanc Technologies has been a certified Microsoft partner since 2000.